Dear Friends and Supporters of NOAH,

You've been asking about an online edition of our White Paper since the print version launched at our conference in September, and we are happy to announce that it is finally here!
The publication, entitled "Arts, Health, and Well-Being in America", is intended to serve as an introduction to and analysis of the current field of Arts in Health and related areas in the United States. Please take a look and feel free to share with colleagues and stakeholders in the field!

A PDF of the white paper can be found here.

Thank you for all that you do to "serve and advance the field of Arts in Health".

Sincerely,

Katie White Swanson
