

Dear Friends and Supporters of NOAH,

Thank you for your patience and understanding as we faced some surprise tech issues with the website and NOAH email the past week! We're happy to report that the site is back online and we've made changes to ensure that it runs more smoothly from now on. If you sent us an email over the past week, we appreciate your patience as we catch up on communications.

This means that our matching grant campaign is STILL GOING and we appreciate the generous donations and membership purchases that you've made so far! There are still 3 weeks left in 2017 to make your tax-deductible contributions to NOAH. To learn more about the initiatives your memberships and gifts are supporting, check out our site here!

In other news, we are pleased to announce that our national search has concluded and NOAH now has a second part-time staff member! Alyson Maier will be serving as our Administrative Assistant, working with the Administrator and Board to support our key initiatives and day-to-day operations. You can learn more about her qualifications and background below!

We'll stay in touch as the Christmas holidays approach with updates and reminders. Best wishes for a pleasant beginning to the season!

Sincerely,
Katie White Swanson
Administrator, NOAH

Aly Maier is a visual artist currently living and working in Florida. She is interested in the intersection of art and health, and frequently explores a variety of mediums including photography, illustration, painting, ceramics, and fiber art. A current graduate student in the Center for Arts in Medicine's Master of Arts in Medicine program, Aly will be completing her Capstone and graduating in the Spring of 2018. She currently serves as Program Coordinator for Arts for Health Florida, and recently traveled to Rwanda on an Arts in Health outreach trip. She is excited to join the NOAH team and contribute to the field of Arts in Health via practice, research, and professionalization.
